

Los Angeles Land Economics Weekend

What about parking?

Our well-known reliance on cars means that Angelenos spend a good amount of time thinking about parking. Here is our guide to parking for the Land Economics Weekend.

For out-of-town guests we urge you to utilize the buses we have chartered for Friday and Saturday. The overnight parking rate for the Biltmore Hotel is $45/day. Parking is rarely free in Los Angeles, so there will be additional costs to parking for everywhere you go. If you decide to venture out on your own, your best bet for transportation is Uber. Los Angeles is big and congested, trying to navigate traffic and parking with time constraints can be stressful on your trip.
